IT WAS A YEAR OF HIGHLIGHTS

Albany, New York

The North American Hockey League was able to do what other development leagues were unable to do. They started the season with 7 teams in specific arenas and by seasons end, all 7 teams had still been playing in those specific arenas. No one said all 7 teams made money, however, during this 1973-74 hockey season, just to finish the season means something in the light of the fact that other leagues (major and minor) went through franchise shifts and franchise disbandments.

It was a year to remember highlights. Highlights like the Binghamton Dusters making their hockey debut a smashing success with countless sellout crowds walking through turnstyles. A tremendous season and post season response to season tickets assures the NAHL's Binghamton entry of an even better season in 1974-75.

In Johnstown, although the crowds were not as large as expected, there were some encouraging signs. Late season acquisitions made the Jets a much improved team. The club unveiled a star in Dave Johnson, their leading goal scorer during the regular season with 41.

Along came the Syracuse Blazers who at one point could not lose a hockey game. The powerful Blazers recorded over 20 straight wins during the regular season and garnered 20 more wins in their final 21 games. They defeated the Long Island Cougars in 4 consecutive games to win the NAHL Championship.

And speaking of the Cougars, the Long Island Arena based club, were a big improvement over teams that had previously played in that building. Unveiling new green and gold uniforms, a solid working agreement, (Chicago Cougars) and a strong desire to win, the Cougars finished a regular season in third place. Playing solid playoff hockey, the Cougars made it all the way to the finals before being knocked out by Syracuse.

The speed and the accurate passing skills of the Maine Nordiques made that club a solid second place team. The Nordiques led by NAHL coach of the year Mike Harvey had some bad times beset them in the round robin playoffs and as a result they were eliminated.

Despite the early elimination, Harvey's skaters had a tremendous year and fan support was encouraging.

In Cape Cod, a fleet right winger named Luc Simard netted 68 goals and captured the NAHL scoring championship with 124 points. Even though the Cubs used three coaches during the year, (one was on an interim basis) they became a much improved hockey club under the tutelage of Player-Coach Nick Polano. The club played a most exciting semi-final series versus Long Island Cougars despite losing the series 4 games to 2.

For Mohawk Valley, it was a long season but there too, the team they had a the latter part of the season was a far better team than the one that began in October. That was because the Toronto Toros finally came through with the player personnel that most people had expected earlier. For the Comets, their future lies in Utica, not Clinton, where one half of their games were played. Crowds were better in Utica as was the building and its facilities. Next year's Comets should be far more competitive and their crowds should respond accordingly in number. Expansion is one topic for discussion in May and NAHL officials are optimistic that at least two new franchises will join the loop.

Mistakes were made this year, but experience will ease that next year. With a summer to work on new ideas, look for the NAHL to be back next year, stronger than ever.

BLAZERS BECOME FIRST NAHL CHAMPIONS

The Syracuse Blazers, regular season NAHL champions, captured the league's biggest prize, the Thomas Lockhart Cup, with a four game sweep of the Long Island Cougars. The Blazers used a highly explosive offensive attack coupled with a sturdy defense enroute to the cup.

Both goaltenders Russ Gillow and Ted Ouimet virtually slammed the door on Cougar attackers, allowing but four goals in four games. The Blazer offense came through to the tune of 27 goals, an average of over six goals per game.

Crowds of nearly 6,000, just short of capacity, turned out to see the Blazers for every home game.

In the end, they were rewarded when veterans Dave Ferguson and Mike Morton skated around the War Memorial Auditorium ice with the Lockhart Cup.

The 1973-74 Syracuse Blazers will be a tough act to follow, even for an American Hockey League team which is presumed to come into existence in Syracuse next season.
